Alberta Unity Group Convenes

EDMONTON (CP) — United political action to defeat the Social Credit administration and establish a progressive government in Alberta was called for today by John L. McFarlane of Calgary, chairman, in addressing the opening session of the Provincial Unity Council of Alberta.

Two-score representatives from all part of the province started a two-day meeting with a view to establishing a permanent unity organization to weld opposition to the administration of Premier Aberhart. The conference is scheduled to draft a program for the next election.

Mr. McFarlane urged a progressive government fostering development of agriculture and natural resources; adjustment of public and private debts and interest rates; restoration of confidence and credit and public debt control; and reduction of the membership of the Alberta Legislature and a cut in members' indemnities.

"The government has wasted time and money passing impracticable legislation, outside their jurisdiction, in order to evade, and if possible, impose on others the responsibilities and promises which they assumed in 1935 and since."

BIGGEST QUESTION

"I believe the preservation of Alberta as a democratic, economic unit, and our support of Canadian Confederation, is of much more importance than the immediate future of any political party."

"The affairs of Alberta can only be described as insolvent, and our directors have made no sincere effort to reach an adjustment between debtors and creditors, either public or private, while we as shareholders are branded as defaulters."

"There are only two sides, at the present time, in our affairs. There is the side which favors law, order, equity and progress, and the other, impracticable, irresponsible and destructive."

been a good deal of blasting on the new gun emplacements during the last few months, said: "There wasn't any blasting out here last night. We've been wondering what it was too."

The district ordnance office of the Department of National Defence at Signal Hill reported there was no gunfire of any sort around Victoria yesterday.

The office of the explosives plant of Canadian Industries Limited on James Island said in answer to a long-distance call: "There was no explosion of any sort out here."

The company's local office said there had been no blast at its Parsons Bridge magazines.

The B.C. Electric Company reported no explosion at its gas plant or any other works.

The City Police Department had no record of any explosion anywhere.

The Provincial Police had no record of any explosion anywhere.

MAX SCHMELING IS IN HOSPITAL WITH BAD BACK INJURIES

he would have to remain under medical care for at least three weeks and stressed the possibility of a hemorrhage of the kidney. He said, however, there were no indications of hemorrhage now.

Dr. Brennan, at the request of General J. Phelan, chairman of the New York State Boxing Commission, will prepare a detailed report of Schmeling's injury and condition.

HARLEM CELEBRATES

NEW YORK (CP)—Harlem's thousands of dusky celebrants shagged off to bed or weaved their way to work today after a night of joyous jubilee touched off when Joe Louis patted Max Schmeling helpless inside of a round and retained the world heavyweight boxing title.

Through the night, a large portion of the 300,000 negro population of New York milled, excitedly up and down Seventh Avenue, north of 110th Street. They danced and shouted, tooted horns, rang cowbells. Dusky belles came truckin' out of restaurants and bars to join the mob. Shredded paper fluttered from the windows to the street.

While there was a fair amount of cautious money on Schmeling in Harlem, the mass of the people bet their rent money, relief cheques, washing machine installments — everything but their shirts — on the Brown Bomber to come through. When he did, the result was a dark tidal wave of joy that was carried into the night to neighboring parts of the city.

Some Louis supporters regarded the win as a kyo for the Reichsfuehrer. They paraded down the avenue, giving the Nazi salute, preceded by a sign which said "Down with Hitler. Up with Louis."

A self-appointed town crier went from bar to bar with quickly made megaphone shouting "Max Smellin' was electrocuted at 10:15 o'clock." The mellow sound of negro chuckles ran along the side streets, emerged from windows, restaurants and bars.

"Dat man Louis, he's dishonest," said one fan. "He done said over de radio de fight 'was goin' two rounds.'"

CLEVELAND RIOT

CLEVELAND (AP)—A melee in Cleveland's negro sector, touched off by Joe Louis' ring victory, left in its wake today scores of injured, including a 15-year-old negro boy who was seriously wounded by a police bullet.

Patrolman Edward Wolf, who fired the shot while a jubilant mob stoned a stalled street car, received a possible fracture when struck by missiles. Three other officers were injured by flying stones.

A victory-mad crowd estimated by police at 10,000 surged through "darktown," shattering street car and store windows until frantic officers released tear gas bombs to restore order.

BERLIN STUNNED

BERLIN (AP)—Germany took the news hard today that Joe Louis' fists had blasted Max Schmeling's comeback hopes in a little more than two minutes.

Thousands of heavy-lidded Germans went to bed after 3 a.m., after sitting up to hear a ringside radio broadcast of the heavy-weight championship fight that left them thunderstruck.

"Wasn't it frightful and in two minutes?" the telephone operator asked, putting through a call to London.

She summed up German's reaction in a nutshell.

Anny Ondra, movie actress-wife of "Unser Make," broke into tears when her secretary told her of the first-round knockout.

Schmeling's friends said their only comment was to echo what the German announcer said at the broadcast from New York:

"We sympathize with you, Max, although you lost as a fair sportsman."

"We will show you on your return that reports in foreign papers that you would be thrown into jail if you lost are untrue."

NEWSPAPER COMMENT

The newspaper Zwoelf Uhr-Blatt charged "certain American business men" should be blamed for Schmeling's defeat. It said they "hindered the fight to the point where only a miracle would enable Schmeling to win."

"Three opponents who stepped into the ring against him this time" were too much for Schmeling, conqueror of Joe Louis in 12 rounds two years ago, the paper explained.

They were: "Louis, age and the legend—that they never come back."

Referring to the two years in which a title chance was denied the German former champion, the newspaper commented:

"The title had to remain in America. That was the purpose of all the manoeuvres against the German..."

"And, therefore, Schmeling was not allowed to climb into the ring until the time when there was a chance that Schmeling, two years older, no longer was too great a danger..."

"It was not his opponent who was too much for him but artificially erected, unfair barriers that wrenched victory away."

The article concluded with a tribute to the black-browed Ullian as an athlete whose sportsmanship and hardiness would set a high ideal for Germany's youth.

not supporting them in antagonism to the government," he said, "but that we were behind them from a humanitarian point of view. We made it very clear that we are not taking part in any political issue at stake. But we want to see they get justice."

A special meeting of the ministerial association and the Anglican committee has been called for Monday to discuss the matter further.

Commenting on reports that another 400 men would be in Victoria within a few days, Jack Lucas, divisional leader of the men, said it had been understood when they left Vancouver that the group of 100 was in the nature of an advance party to prepare the ground for the ultimate arrival of all those who had been in the post office and art gallery.

"We have not got to the point of seeing the government yet," he said. "We have not come to the stage when we feel it is the appointed time to do so. We do not think the time is favorable yet."

Yesterday afternoon Lucas said he thought the next approach to the government might be made by a sympathetic public rather than directly by the men themselves.

B. Platt, publicity agent for the men, said this morning the women's emergency committee now had a membership of 13.

He said a number of Victoria doctors had volunteered their services to the men.

Mrs. E. Matheson, chairman of the publicity committee of the women's group, announced that cars have been provided to pick up donations. She said gifts of clothing, food and money were coming in, but dishes, mattresses, large pots and lard pails were needed.

START TREK TO CITY

NANAIMO, B.C. (CP)—Two hundred unemployed men who came here Monday from Vancouver today began their southward trek 80 miles down the island to Victoria.

Spokesmen for the men, part of the group which staged a sit-down demonstration in two Vancouver buildings during the past month, said 24 cars and one truck had been obtained. The men would travel to Ladysmith town, and proceed to Duncan tomorrow.

All the men's packs were piled on the single truck, offered without charge to the men, as were the 24 automobiles. Some of the cars would return here later today to carry Ladysmith any men not able to crowd into the machines on the first trip.

VANCOUVER (CP)—"We feel that the boys over there need more assistance to impress the government," Secretary John Mats of the Relief Project Workers' Union, said in announcing part of the $1,000 obtained from yesterday's tag day here would be used to send "reinforcements" to the capital.

Meanwhile the union considered the possibility of sending even more jobless to Victoria on fishing boats.

Port officials said it would be impossible because shipping regulations forbid carrying of passengers on vessels unequipped with live-saving, fire-fighting and other safety devices.

DIVIDED OVER SUPPORT

The Trades and Labor Council here was divided over advisability of holding a mass meeting next Sunday in support of the unemployed.

Tuesday night the council agreed to hold such a meeting. Then yesterday the executive of the organization decided to refer the matter to a referendum of the entire membership of its affiliated unions.

Some sections of the council considered holding the meeting anyway, but Birt Showler, acting secretary, declared such action would be "mutiny," and members taking part would be subject to discipline.

President E. A. Jamieson of the council issued this statement:

"This move (to sponsor a mass meeting) is introduced by those who have not the best interests of the trade union movement at heart. It will not help the unemployed at all. It may be the cause of further rioting in which our members and the unemployed may suffer injury."

"It will simply be encouragement for the furtherance of the aims of Fascist-minded citizens. The board will not call any mass meeting until the matter has been referred to a referendum vote of the rank and file members of the union."

An investigation was called today to investigate police reports that members of the city fire department at No. 2 hall on Seymour Street showed "lack of discipline" and insulted officers during Sunday's rioting.

Every member of the personnel in No. 2 hall will be questioned by fire department heads. Police alleged sneers and criticism greeted officers who asked firemen for gas masks when tear gas was used to clear the post office and art gallery. They also charged firemen shouted insulting remarks at constables.

Speakers at a jobless meeting here last night drew word pictures of a "Great Armada" of small ships, like the Spanish Armada which attempted invasion of England, carrying men across the Strait of Georgia to "camp on the government's doorstep" until a relief works program was started.

One man suggested watchers might be stationed at Beacon Hill. When the fleet of fishing boats came into sight they could ride on bicycles through the capital city's streets, shouting:

"Awake, awake! The jobless are coming!"

Yesterday more than $1,000 was collected by 500 "tin-cannery" who appeared on downtown streets to solicit funds from passers-by. In spite of Mayor George Miller's announcement all "tin-cannery" would be arrested only about 30 were picked up. Four of these remained in jail, while nine appeared in police court and were released on their own recognizance after being reminded to today. The others were released with warnings that summonses would be issued for them if they did not leave the city.

A spokesman for the Relief Project Workers' Union said another tag day might be held today. The money collected yesterday was to be used to provide food and lodging for hundreds of single unemployed, many of whom were evicted Sunday from the Central Post Office and Civic Art Gallery.

SEEKS INQUIRY

Harold Winch, M.P.P., announced he would demand an investigation into the "beating" of Steve Brodie, leader of the sit-down strikers forcibly ejected from the Central Post Office here Sunday, and the tear-gas bombing of the Relief Project Workers' Union headquarters here.

"As soon as I have completed gathering the evidence I will make formal demand on Chief Constable W. W. Foster to hold an investigation," Winch said.

He said he believed tear-gas bombing of the union quarters was without any legal authority.

Max Schmeling's Wife to Join Him

BERLIN (AP)—Anny Ondra, movie-actress wife of Max Schmeling, said tonight she intends to go to her husband's bedside in New York.

She said she already had booked passage, but was awaiting another telephone call from Max before arranging definitely for the trip.

"It's terrible that punches like that are permitted," she said when she learned of Schmeling's injury at the hands of Joe Louis last night. "Thank God his spine isn't injured, and he will not be laid permanently."

Included in the many messages and flowers she received from friends today, she said, was a sympathetic expression from Adolf Hitler.

REVENTLOWS IN SHARP DISPUTE

The Danish count was conspicuously absent from the party.

COUNT IS IN PARIS

The London Daily Mail quoted the Count as saying British police wanted to question him in connection with his wife's kidnap precautions, but he declared at his Paris hotel that he had made no threat to use force in gaining custody of his son.

The paper said it understood Barbara had been granted temporary custody of the child pending "subsequent litigation" and quoted the Danish Count as saying "sharp differences" had arisen between himself and his wife over future education of their son.

Chubby, two-year-old Lance slept in an air-conditioned five-room nursery suite behind steel-grilled windows last night.

The heiress who once declared "I am afraid of American kidnappers" relied on the strength of her mansion and private guards to keep her son safe.

The London Daily Mail said: "It is understood there have been certain disagreements between Count and Countess-Haugwitz-Reventlow with regard to various questions, including finance."

WARM BRITISH SHIP DEBATE

London News Chronicle today. This step would be taken, the Liberal newspaper said, in order to persuade Great Britain to put into effect the Anglo-Italian agreements concluded in April.

It had been reported earlier the Earl of Perth, British Ambassador in Rome, had told Count Galeazzo Ciano, Italian Foreign Minister, that a substantial, voluntary withdrawal of Italian effectiveness, with or without suspension of hostilities, might result in application of the accord.

The News Chronicle added:

"General Franco now has trained battleworthy troops capable of taking their place. Therefore it would be possible for Mussolini, without dealing a blow to Franco's prospects, to bring home about 10,000 infantrymen—thus making a gesture which might persuade Prime Minister Chamberlain to put the Anglo-Italian pact into immediate effect."

Divorces Granted By Parliament

OTTAWA (CP)—Eighty-six divorces were granted by the Senate this session, Hon. Lendrum McMeans, Conservative, Winnipeg, chairman of the divorce committee, told the Upper House yesterday. There were 88 petitions presented and two were not proceeded with.

Senator McMeans objected to a statement made during a recent debate by Senator A. D. McRae, Conservative, Vancouver, characterizing divorce as "beneath the dignity of the House."

Nothing that impinged on the public welfare was beneath the Senate's dignity, said Mr. McMeans.

ROYAL VISIT TO FRANCE DELAYED

"Their Majesties, deeply appreciating the motives underlying M. Lebrun's suggestions, have gladly accepted it."

The courtess was in her 77th year. Besides the King and Queen, her husband, the 83-year-old Early of Strathmore and Kinghorne, were at the bedside when she succumbed in the family's London residence.

The King later received Viscount Halifax, Foreign Secretary, and the Earl of Cromer, Lord Chamberlain, at Buckingham Palace and discussed plans.

NO COURT MOURNING

An official announcement said: "The Lord Chamberlain is authorized to announce no commands for court mourning will be issued by the King. Their Majesties will observe mourning as also will members of the royal households when in attendance on Their Majesties."

Lady Strathmore left six children, Lord Glamis, the heir to the earldom; Hon. David and Hon. Michael Bowes-Lyon, Baroness Elphinstone, Lady Rose Leveson-Gower, wife of the Lieutenant-Governor of the Isle of Man, and the Queen, who is the youngest surviving daughter and fifth surviving child.

The courtess' health had been frail for some time. She suffered from a heart condition.

Lady Strathmore bore 10 children, of whom four are dead. One son, Fergus, was killed during the war while a captain in the Black Watch. Another son, John Herbert, wounded in France, died in 1930. Alexander Francis, a son, and Violet Hyacinth, a daughter, also died.

PORTLAND FAMILY

A member of the family of the Duke of Portland, Lady Strathmore was the daughter of the late Rev. William Cavendish-Bentwick. On July 16, 1881, she was married to the then Lord Glamis, who became the 14th holder of the Scottish earldom of Strathmore and Kinghorne in succession to his father in 1904.

They lived quietly at their Scottish seat, Glamis Castle, legendary residence of Macbeth and scene of the murder of Duncan, on which Shakespeare based his famed play.

It was announced the funeral would be held June 27 at Glamis Castle, the family home in Scotland.

PLANS CHANGED

PARIS (CP)—The French government today began revising plans for welcoming King George and Queen Elizabeth to Paris on their visit of state, in keeping with family mourning for the death of the Countess of Strathmore, Queen Elizabeth's mother.

All evidences of rejoicing will be removed from the four-day program.

Members of the commission are: Gerald Swope, president of the General Electric Co.; Charles R. Hook, president of the American Rolling Mill Co.; Lloyd K. Mr. Roosevelt said "many comments" had come to his attention regarding British labor relations.

Gas Price Cut In Saskatchewan

REGINA (CP)—Reductions in gasoline prices ranging up to 3 cents a gallon went into effect in Saskatchewan yesterday. An oil company official said reductions were made possible because all refineries were now using Turner Valley crude exclusively. Previously some Montana crude was used.

Three-cent reductions were made in northwestern Saskatchewan, down to a half-cent in northeastern sections. No reductions were made in the extreme south and southwest.

Regina prices dropped one cent a gallon and Saskatoon prices a cent and a half.

Chorley Park Is Scene Of Auction

TORONTO (CP)—A bath stool, on which the auctioneer announced the Duke of Windsor once sat when he visited Toronto as Prince of Wales, was knocked down for $2.50 yesterday at the auction sale of furnishings in Government House, Chorley Park, former residence of the Ontario lieutenant-governors.

Auctioneer Tom Ryan was on the point of letting the stool go for $1 when he raised the bidding by declaring the duke's use of the bathroom piece.

"It should be an honor for anybody to sit down and write a note at this desk," he remarked a minute later, standing beside a walnut Queen Anne writing desk. "The Duke of Kent wrote many a letter home from this very desk."

The desk sold for $23. Later Auctioneer Ryan sold a mahogany bed—"the very bed in which the Queen of Roumania slept"—for $33.

Money Saved On Machine Guns

OTTAWA (CP)—Contract made by the Canadian Government with the John Inglis Company of Toronto for the manufacture of Bren guns is entirely separate from the contract made with the same company by the British War Office, Hon. Ian Mackenzie, Defence Minister, told the House of Commons yesterday in reply to question from J. S. Woodsworth, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation leader.

Mr. Woodsworth asked how the minister reconciled a joint arrangement between the two governments for the manufacture of the guns with his statement the government knew nothing of British orders for war materials in Canada.

Mr. Mackenzie said the Canadian Government would save more than $1,000,000 as a result of the volume of production made possible by the British order, but the two contracts had been negotiated separately. He promised to table the contract with the Inglis Company.

(Canada has placed an order of 7,000 Bren guns with the John Inglis Company and the British Government has ordered 5,000. The value of the Canadian order is about $5,250,000.)

Mr. Mackenzie also informed Mr. Woodsworth Major James Hahn was not appointed by the Canadian Government to go to England in 1937 and 1938 to make a survey of munitions production for the government.

New Nova Scotia Housing Scheme

HALIFAX (CP)—A venture in co-operative housing was launched yesterday for the Cape Breton coal mining town of Reserve by the Nova Scotia Housing Commission.

The scheme will start off with 11 houses. Laid out on modern lines, the little settlement will have a parkway running through the property and a central area for use as a community garden and tree plot. There will be a large playground for children.

Monthly payments for interest and amortization will be exceptionally low.

OTTAWA (CP)—Charging French-Canadians were barred from higher offices in the Canadian National Railways and discriminated against in employment in the province of Quebec, A. J. Lapointe, Liberal, Matapedia, Matane, Quebec, in the House of Commons yesterday demanded an inquiry into the situation.

Speaking in the budget debate, Mr. Lapointe also objected to high salaries paid certain railway officials whom he described as arrogant and defiant of public opinion.

Railway officers received salaries of $10,000, $12,000 and $15,000 a year, but except in rare cases he did not think any salary should exceed $5,000.

LONDON (CP-Havas)—A hint that a general election may be held before the government's term is up in November, 1940, was dropped yesterday by Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, at the annual conference in the National Liberal Party.

"I am not making any announcement," he said, "because I do not know, but before another Liberal conference is held (next June), I suppose we shall all feel that we are getting toward the eve of a general election."

Two Lawyers In Court Are Slain

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Arthur Emil Hansen, 38-year-old Wankonda, S.D., farmer, shot and killed two lawyers who were opposing him in a civil case yesterday in the Hall of Records.

Hansen's victims were J. Irving Hancock, 26, and Robert McLaughlin, 48.

"I regret nothing I did; I had nothing to lose," Hansen told Capt. William Penprase, sheriff's captain. "When I entered that courtroom and saw those two attorneys who had cheated me out of everything I owned, and who were whispering together to harass me further, I saw red. I'm glad they're dead, they can't hurt anybody else."

Calgary Inquires Into Milk Price

CALGARY (CP)—The price of milk and cream in Calgary will be investigated.

The Board of Public Utility Commissioners, of which Judge J. A. Carpenter is chairman, has ordered an inquiry. It will open in the court house here June 28.

JERSEY CITY VERDICT SOON

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague's counsel announced in federal court today they would offer no defence to Committee for Industrial Organization and American Civil Liberties Union charges that he and other city officials, had abrogated free speech and assemblage in Jersey City.

"The defence rests," said John A. Matthews of Newark, special counsel for the state Democratic leader, in a sudden switch of plans.

Hague had been on the witness stand before Judge William Clark for five and a half days and today was set aside to hear Matthews' promised motion to dismiss the complaint and to argue several legal points in dispute.

The motion to dismiss was not made.

Dunning Forced To Rest in Ottawa

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. Charles Dunning, Finance Minister, had a slight heart attack in the government lobby of the House of Commons yesterday afternoon. It was brought on by the summer heat and overwork.

After resting two hours in Prime Minister King's office, he was taken to his home. He will be absent from the House some days, it is expected.

Preparation of a budget places a tremendous physical burden on a Minister of Finance. This, coupled with the great heat of the last two days, was given as the cause of Mr. Dunning's collapse. He presented his budget June 16. It represented weeks of preparation.

eastern South Dakota, the southern end of the spring wheat region. It also reported outbreak of red dust in a few sections of Minnesota.

Continued wet weather caused, the bureau said, black stem rust to spread throughout most of Kansas and into extensive areas in Nebraska. More favorable weather was said to have slackened development of rust in Iowa.

Elsewhere conditions were described as favorable for the bread grain crop.

No New Canadian Flying Schools

OTTAWA (CP)—Senator Raoul Dandurand, government leader, reiterated in the Senate yesterday that no request had been received from the British government for establishment in Canada of flying schools.

"Should any such proposals be made by the government of the United Kingdom," he said, "the Canadian government would of course be prepared to discuss them with that government and at the proper time to make their position known to the Canadian people."

"Some informal conversations have taken place with persons who did not indicate they had been authorized or instructed by the British government to make any proposals," he said.

"But it seems to me informal conversations can hardly form the basis of an inquiry in this chamber when they are not followed by some official action."

"Informal conversations may be just as important as if all the formalities in the world were attached to them," Senator Arthur Meighen maintained. "It depends with whom they were held and by whom."

Dr. H. E. Young Is Awarded Honor

HALIFAX (CP)—Dr. D. E. Wodehouse of Ottawa was elected president of the Canadian Public Health Association at the concluding sessions of the annual meeting here yesterday. He succeeds Dr. P. S. Campbell of Halifax, Nova Scotia's chief health officer. Provincial representatives include: British Columbia, Dr. J. S. Cull, Victoria, and Dr. C. A. E. Dolman, Vancouver.

During the convention honorary life memberships in the association were awarded to Dr. H. E. Young of Victoria, Dr. S. Boucher of Montreal and Dr. A. Lessard of Quebec.

Dr. Young, dean of Canadian health officers, is a public health leader in British Columbia, where he has served as provincial health officer since 1915.

Tragedy Over China

BRUISED BY WAR AND BATTERED BY flood, stricken China appears to have two new tragic trials in store for her. The worst famine in the land's many centuries of periodic mass hunger and one of the worst epidemics of disease in the annals of mankind seem inescapable. The flood of the great Yellow River, whether man-made or brought on by natural causes will not soon recede. Pouring into the great plain of the provinces of Honan and Shantung on the heels of the torrential rains of the past few days will be the "spring melt" from the mountains of far-off Tibet, the Yellow River's source. This peak may be expected, about mid-July.

Two factors, flood and war, make the situation more serious than ever before. Cutting wide swaths through fertile farmlands as much as 30 feet below the bed of the river, the Huang Ho is adding indescribable destruction of crops in China's "granary" to the extreme displacement caused by the war waged in that region. To the millions already made homeless by the war are being added the millions now homeless as a result of the flood. When the defeated, but not conquered, Chinese armies retreated westward, with them came uncounted millions of civilians fleeing the Japanese. Their care and, particularly, their feeding became a burden thrust upon Honan and Shantung, already burdened by having to support upwards of a million men under arms. To this already acute food problem is added the problem of feeding those who can look forward now to nothing but a harvest of muddy water from their rice paddies and grain fields. And, it must be remembered, even in the best times, food is scanty enough in China.

It is on these facts that the expectation of a devastating famine is based. It would strike a population already weakened in their resistance to disease through China's semi-permanent state of mass malnutrition and as a result of the protracted war. The epidemic of disease, which may be cholera or typhus or both with dietary diseases as a trimming, is predicated upon the basis of the regularity with which disease follows flood and famine, particularly in a land where sanitary conditions are poor.

"Glamour-coated Gangsters"

TODAY'S PETTY THIEVES AND CAR- stealers are the murderers and kidnappers of tomorrow. This is one of the admissions made at Lethbridge yesterday by Mr. N. J. L. Pieper, special agent in charge of the San Francisco field division of the United States Federal Bureau of Investigation, to the Chief Constables' Association of Canada.

One of the tragic things about a certain attitude of mind toward crime and criminals is that the tendency still remains to idolize what Mr. Pieper calls glamour-coated, gun-wielding gangsters, which means, by the same token, that the victims of their depredations are either forgotten altogether or treated with scant consideration. Nor is it fair to say that "small boys and reckless young men" are the only misguided individuals who are afflicted with a distorted view of the "achievements" of the Capones, the Dillingers, the Nelsons and others of the same ilk. There are not a few adolescents who easily fall under the "spell" of the spectacular two-gun gangster.

Mr. Pieper very properly describes the "glamour-coated, gun-wielding gangsters" as "rats—the lowest form of humanity—unworthy of anything but loathing," and says we "must show our boys and girls that these criminals" are just that. This is sound advice. The common thief, no matter how the charge against him may be phrased, usually is a common thief. There is no glamour in that title.

Louis to Schmeling

OUR SPORTS EDITOR WOULD PROBABLY have something to say if we indulged in even the mildest form of flirtation with the fictitious lingo in these columns, so we will confine a brief reference to last night's argument between Mr. Louis and Herr Schmeling to the suggestion that the former—the idol of his race—produced a superabundance of "naturals" in the short space of two minutes and four seconds.

What 80,000 cash customers thought about the alleged entertainment is their own business. It would be safe to assume, however, that a few of the more daring among them had laid wagers from a dime upwards on the result of this long and intensely press-agitated battle between the pride of this continent's colored population and the 100 per cent Aryan representative of Germany's "great I am" and the whole Nazi realm.

Berlin's Zwölf-Uhr Blatt, as its name implies, came out at noon today with a unique palliative for those Teuton radio enthusiasts who had remained up till the early hours of this morning giving their Aryan, god the most encouraging absent treatment of which they were capable. It remarked that "certain American businessmen" ought to be blamed for Schmeling's defeat, because they "hindered the fight to the point where only a miracle would enable Schmeling to win," and that their idol stepped into the ring to face three opponents—"Louis, age, and the legend that 'they never come back'."

Herr Schmeling did get one bit of encouragement after the 124-second controversy. He was informed by the Berlin radio announcer that he had lost as a fair sportsman and that "we will show you on your return that reports in foreign papers that you would be thrown into jail if you lost are untrue." That ought to make it easy for the German challenger to cash his $150,000 cheque, or whatever he got, with pious resignation and Christian fortitude. Mr. Louis, however, still has the "bones."

Hope for Psychasthenics

A DRAMATIC STORY OF A POVERTY- to-riches rise from the psychological angle was told by Drs. Henry H. Dixon and Laurence Selling of Portland, Ore., at the San Francisco meeting of the American Psychiatric Association. Back of the story is special encouragement for thousands of unhappy, worried and fear-ridden persons who are labeled psychasthenics. The story itself concerns a man in the later forties who developed such "terrible fears of a bizarre nature" that he was completely incapacitated for work, could not sleep, lost his appetite, suffered headaches and digestive disorders, and when brought to the mental hospital alternately paced the floor and sat doubled up in bed wringing his hands and bemoaning his fate.

This same man, who thought he was losing his sanity, has recovered so completely that for the last two years he has been considered one of the most valuable men in his company's offices. He has been given all the work which calls for skill in handling the prejudice and antagonisms of various groups and individuals.

The cause of his breakdown, like that of many similar persons, was the fact that he was a shy person who was forced from childhood into a pattern of activities, at school, play, work and social life, arranged for him by others. Being diligent and competent, he and others like him force themselves to go ahead with this pattern, but when faced with new situations and decisions, they lack confidence in themselves and begin to worry. Still driving themselves, they are increasingly bothered by a feeling of tension which becomes unbearable. They worry still more and begin to have fears for their sanity.

The cure for the condition lies in teaching these people that they are not different from other people and that everyone feels this tension. Tension is either pleasant or disagreeable according to whether we accept it as normal or not. The tension of sports competition can be "one of life's better thrills," or it can be so unpleasant that children may withdraw from sports rather than experience it.

If we are worried about the tension of life, we soon start thinking there is something wrong with us and we then have a new cause for worry. If we learn to accept the tension as normal and often pleasantly exciting, as the man described did, we will recover as he did. This man not only recovered himself but became so interested in and understanding of other persons with the same difficulties that he made a hobby of studying them. This in turn led to his present fine position with his old company.

Thus, psychasthenics, as the doctors pointed out, need not learn to look on themselves as inferiors in the game of life, because in general equipment they are equal to or superior in ability to the average.

A Delightful Project

OAK BAY IS TO BE CONGRATULATED on the fine community spirit which found expression yesterday afternoon in the formal opening of the beautiful little "garden of remembrance" at the Corner of Newport Avenue and Currie Road. It was through the initiative and generosity of Mrs. H. R. Beaven that the undertaking was made possible, her gift of 620 rose plants being destined as a fragrant and living memorial to her late husband—for many years one of Victoria's leading citizens and noted as a rose-grower. The co-operation of the Reeve and Council of Oak Bay ensured the fruition of Mrs. Beaven's plan to convert this erstwhile bit of common land into a beautiful little retreat. This is an asset not only to Oak Bay, but also to Victoria and district as a whole.

Nature tries to improve the race. She checks out the boat-rocker early so that there will be fewer like him.

Perhaps the young Mussolini who thinks bombing such good sport has a child mind. Only children think cruelty is innocent fun.

If it had only been a couple of minutes later, the rumble which mystified Victoria last evening might well have been a reverberation from the "Brown Bomber" explosion that made such a wreck of Max Schmeling.

The Ottawa Journal tells of a letter received from a small farmer outside Vancouver complaining he could not obtain help, that he had gone to the Post Office and offered employment to the single men lounging around there before the Sunday clean-up, but he and his offer of a farm job were met only with jeers. Surely, this story can't be fact!

THE VATICAN PROTESTS AGAIN

From New York Post
For the third time this year the Vatican has protested the bombing of civilian populations by the Franco forces in Spain.

The latest protest, in the Pope's official organ, the Osservatore Romano, was called forth by a recent series of bombings which included that of the loyalist city of Alicante, which is at least 200 miles from any front in the Spanish civil war.

"The centres bombarded have no military interest," the Osservatore Romano said, "nor are they near military centres or public buildings which affect the war."

How much longer can Franco ignore these protests and still represent himself as a devoted son of the Church?

Loose Ends

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

AFTERMATH

IF YOU WANT to see how difficult it is to get the truth about any human affair, go to Vancouver and try to find out what really happened there last Sunday morning. Every one I talked to in Vancouver had a different and complete version.

One woman said she was going to write an open letter to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police asking them who had trained them to be the Canadian Cossacks and why they had ruined one of the great legends of the Canadian people by their brutal handling of the unemployed. A newspaperman who was present at the Post-Office riot said he was never so proud of being a Canadian as when he saw how the Mounties treated the sit-down strikers with moderation and humanity.

A leading Liberal politician said he had met scores of people in Vancouver and they had all assured him the public was with the government and against the strikers. A Conservative politician said the whole town was behind the boys and would vote for the C.C.F. in an election tomorrow.

A high official said there was no doubt the whole sit-down strike had been organized in the east by Communists and was part of a general plan to make trouble in the country. Another fellow who had been among the strikers said they were just ordinary Canadian boys who wanted a job.

But one thing all agreed on—it was fine to have the boys leaving Vancouver and coming over to Victoria. It was time, all my Vancouver friends said, that Victoria got a taste of the current situation and awakened to the facts of life instead of drowsing happily on its island while others toiled. That's the way they think of us in Vancouver. Actually, of course, they are only envious.

ODD

ANYWAY, IT IS an odd sensation to stand on the stern of the steamer going out on one of these velvet June nights and look back at Vancouver, a smear of lights across the black hills with a crescent of orange-colored moon hanging over it. Nothing could be softer and more peaceful—the twinkling lights, the moon streaking the water and all the hills asleep. Odd to think that there, lost somewhere among the lights, lost in the darkness, are hundreds of homeless men full of anger and protest, living no one knows how, going no one knows where.

Odd to think that under this lush June moon, among the quiet lights and the soft shadows of the hills, hatred and bitterness tonight are not asleep, that in this lovely spot which nature created long ago, man, forever at war in one form or another, never at rest, never at peace with his neighbor, has created a running sore of strife and trouble. But the hills around Vancouver look down, unmoved. They know that they will still be looking down long after Vancouver and all its little art hill of curious two-legged creatures has disappeared, buried under the upsurging jungle. Odd to think of.

SMART DISTILLERS

THE DISTILLERS of the United States are getting smarter. They are publishing sweetly-scented Sunday school advertisements advising the people to drink moderately, telling fathers not to alienate their sons by getting drunk on Saturdays and to treat liquor "as a contribution to graceful living."

This is most moving. But, after all, the distillers, despite their beautiful altruism, are not likely to suffer any grave loss because of the moderation which will follow their advertising. The American nation won't drink moderately. It won't do anything moderately. It will go the whole hog in whatever it does. It will live as it drives—wildly, desperately. When it swings to the Left it swings so hard into the wider aspects of the New Deal that, just as certainly, it will swing one day hard to the right and you may see pogroms in the East Side of New York. From pacifism it has swung into the largest naval program the world has ever known. Where it will swing next no man knows, for it is young and hot-blooded and generous and delightful, like a high-spirited boy in his teens. Not in our lifetime will it be any different. A little later we may do so, too, though at the moment we show no sign of being out of our milk-fed infancy.

Meanwhile the good old American and Canadian drinking tradition will continue. Liquor will be used mostly for its original purpose—to get drunk on. Few people ask more of the good distillers than that.

PRESS PHOTOGRAPHER'S PARADISE

From Saint John Telegraph Journal
A dispatch from Puerto Rico says: "Torres Morales, former photographer of the newspaper El Imparcial, was slain yesterday in the newspaper's newsroom." Fortunately for our press photographers, Canadians are less touchy and impulsive than they are in Central America.

CORRECT DRESS AT WEDDING

The tuxedo is worn only upon informal occasions after 6 p.m. For a formal afternoon wedding the ushers, groom and best man dress alike. They wear morning coat with dark grey striped trousers, single-breasted black waistcoat, white stand-up collar, light grey tie, grey suede gloves, low black calf shoes, grey spats, silk hat. For a formal evening wedding the groom, best man and ushers would wear full evening dress (tail coat); for informal daytime wedding, Oxford grey or dark blue business suit, plain white shirt, dark tie; black shoes, white boutonniere, grey gloves, plain or felt hat or derby; for informal wedding after 6 o'clock, groom wears dinner jacket, white waistcoat, wing or fold collar, white stiff-bosom or pleated shirt, black tie, white gloves. The best man and ushers wear the same style as groom, but the ushers' waistcoats may be black instead of white.

Nazis Really Planned to March On Czechoslovakia

G. E. R. GEDYE

In the New York Times

FULLER information now available leaves no room for doubt that Germany was preparing for a repetition in Czechoslovakia of the Austrian invasion, which was averted by the decisive attitude of this little republic. Its resolute will to live and defend the achievements of the last 20 years belied the pessimists and defeatists who have been so industriously proclaiming in recent months that it was all over but the shouting for Czechoslovakia.

The assumption that an invasion of Czechoslovakia would be a walkover is no longer tenable. The only question now is whether the potential aggressors are prepared to face a European war—perhaps a world conflict between the forces of democracy and dictatorship. There is no room for doubt that they are not so prepared, but it took this little country to make it evident.

The scenes witnessed in Czechoslovakia from Friday night to Sunday, it can now be said, were grimly reminiscent of war. A formidable parade of modern arms, among which tanks were prominently represented, rolled toward the frontier districts. Reservists, who had been quietly summoned by gendarmes so as to avoid the international scare that a public proclamation would have excited, responded to the call. And at the same time a stream of refugees started moving toward the interior.

THE NEWS that German troops had been seen virtually on the frontier caused a panic on Saturday, and many wealthy Czech-Germans spent the greater part of the day trying to drive cars from the Sudeten areas along roads crowded with military transport moving in the opposite direction.

Everywhere the reservists responded with alacrity and enthusiasm. Trains moved off with the men singing lustily, while the womenfolk remained tearfully on the platforms. Every one was convinced that hostilities were imminent.

In the Sudeten areas the Henleinists were as much alarmed as any one. The party headquarters on Saturday ordered that the swastika, jackboots and white stockings that had been worn defiantly in the preceding weeks must vanish immediately, lest the wearers be rounded-up and interned on the outbreak of hostilities.

A PYTHON'S EGGS

From The London Times
Visitors to the London Zoo during the next few weeks should not miss an unusual scene which will not last long. This is a python engaged in incubating a clutch of eggs which she has deposited in her den in the Reptile House.

"Cold-blooded" animals rely as a rule on the heat of the sun to hatch their eggs, and pythons are among the few snakes which contribute their mite of body-heat towards incubation. The mother is a 10-foot Indian python which was presented by Lord Moyne in 1936. She laid her eggs last week among the litter of bracken on the cage floor, and since then she has remained coiled over them, refusing to leave her charges even for food and water. Previously fairly tame, she has become very pugnacious, striking at the keeper when he enters the den, so that he has not been able to count the eggs. These appear to be about the size of swan's eggs, covered with a parchment-like shell, and there may be as many as 40 of them.

Python's eggs laid in the zoo have generally been removed to a special incubator, but all attempts to hatch them artificially failed.

Beaven Rose Garden Opened At Oak Bay

Reeve R. R. Taylor Speaks at Opening of Beautiful
Memorial

Oak Bay's new rose garden at the corner of Windsor and Currie Roads, the gift of Mrs. H. R. Beaven, as a memorial to her late husband, one of Greater Victoria's most enthusiastic and expert rose growers, was officially opened yesterday afternoon by Reeve R. R. Taylor of Oak Bay, in the presence of Mrs. E. W. Hamber, members of the Oak Bay Municipal Council and a large gathering of rose lovers from all parts of the city.

Speaking briefly, Reeve Taylor told of the appreciation every citizen of Oak Bay should give Mrs. Beaven for making the rose garden possible. He thanked her on behalf of everyone in Oak Bay and said he hoped her generous action would lead others to contribute to the joy and happiness of the general public. He referred to her as one of Oak Bay's outstanding pioneers, she having lived in the same home on Beach Drive for 37 years.

He asked the public to care for the rose garden as it would its own and not to deface it in any way.

Introduced by the reeve, Mrs. Beaven said all the rose bushes had been grown by her late husband and she was only fulfilling his wishes when she made it possible for the general public to enjoy the flowers which were his favorite. She thanked all who had worked with her to make the garden.

She then cut a white silken ribbon which stretched across the main entrance and was the first to enter, taking Mrs. Hamber as her guest.

In the garden are 600 rose bushes of many rare and exquisite varieties. They have been artistically placed in vari-shaped beds, surrounded by fresh green lawns. In the centre is a memorial sun dial which came from Syon Court, the Duke of Northumberland's estate in England and is more than 100 years old. A neat fence surrounds the garden and there are two entrances.

Mrs. Hamber was accompanied by her secretary, Mrs. Mae Rice, Judge P. S. Lampman, president of the Victoria Horticultural Society, and Mrs. Lampman and Herbert Anson, M.P.P., and Mrs. Anson were specially invited guests.

TRIBUTE TO DR. W. G. WILSON

Presentations Mark Retirement of Pastor After 17 Years at First United

"As you leave our thoughts go with you and the members of your family, and we pray our Heavenly Father to continue to pour upon you His richest blessings," were the closing words of an illuminated address presented to Dr. W. G. Wilson, retiring pastor of the First United Church, by the congregation.

A cheque was also presented to Dr. Wilson at a farewell gathering held last evening in the church. James Strang made the presentation on behalf of the members of the congregation.

DEEP RESPECT

The address showed the deepest respect for Dr. Wilson by his congregation. It read:

"It has been a privilege to have known you as minister and friend for the past 17 years. To the sick and bereaved you have brought solace and comfort; to the well and happy, new zeal and more purposeful living. With sincerity and conviction and most of all with that spirit of love which reveals by its grace, communion with God.

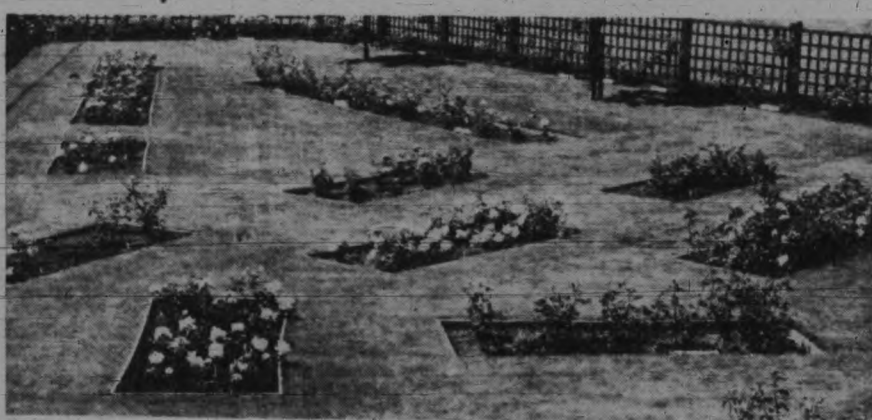

It praised Dr. Wilson's messages from the pulpit as having brought new strength and inspiration and commended him for the spirit of unity and co-operation felt within the church.

"Your untiring zeal in promoting the best interests in our membership has done much to insure the harmony and co-operation as well as the solidarity, and influence of the congregation.

when Dr. Wilson first came to the First United Church, and told of the fine influence the pastor had had over the activities of the congregation in promoting social and spiritual welfare.

"In the Christian church, this period of 17 years has carried us through the conductive steps of the church union issue to the consummation of this great program and to the notable achievements of the United Church of Canada," he said.

Mr. Farr told of the outstanding progress made in the church during Dr. Wilson's ministry there. Most heartening were the doubling of the membership on the roll and the removing of a heavy burden of debt.

"This is a night for gratitude," he said, "and we thank God for our past associations and stand with faith and courage on the threshold of a new day."

OTHER PRESENTATIONS

Representing the Sunday school of the church, Miss Rita Millhouse gave a message to the pastor and presented him with a book autographed by the officers and pupils of the school. Three little girls, Helena Hunkin, Donna Munro and Janet Straith presented Mrs. Wilson and Miss Georgiana Wilson with gifts and flowers.

A traveling set was presented Mrs. Wilson by the women's representative which consisted of Mrs. A. S. Christie, Mrs. D. Fair and Mrs. J. MacDonald. Mrs. Christie spoke on behalf of the ladies, telling of the co-operation extended by Mrs. Wilson in any of the ladies' undertakings.

Mrs. MacDonald presented to Mrs. S. Fraser, sister of Mrs. Wilson, a corsage and gift as a token of the appreciation for the work she had done in the church.

Dr. Wilson was presented with the manuscript of an organ composition by Jack Smith, assistant organist, entitled, "Communion in D Flat." Mr. Smith played the piece after it had been presented.

INSPIRED BY CONGREGATION

In replying to the many presentations Dr. Wilson sincerely thanked the members of the congregation for the loyalty and co-operation they had given him during his long pastorate. He said that it was an inspiration to be minister to them. There had never been a shadow cast across his 17 years of ministry, and he said that it was a great joy and sacred privilege to be able to stand in the centre of such a loyal group watching them work about him.

"The Christian ministry of the city has been remarkable in its fellowship," he said, "and the ministers of all denominations, not excluding the Roman Catholic, have been a great support."

With regard to the check presented him, Dr. Wilson said that nothing in the world would have been more appropriate with him going off the pay roll in the next few days. He said that it was his intention to place the money in an annuity so that his wife and himself would be reminded for the rest of their lives of the devotion of the Victoria First United Church congregation.

He said that he had made no plans for the future but would be available for any kind of Christian work in any part of Canada.

HAPPY UNITED FAMILY

In thanking the church members for all they had done, Mrs. Wilson said that it had been a joy and a pleasure to fall in behind the ladies to work together.

Lt.-Governor Is Host Today To Doctors

Visiting Delegates Are Entertained At Government House

His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor and Mrs. Eric W. Hamber entertained about 300 guests this afternoon at a reception and tea at Government House, the affair being arranged in honor of the visiting doctors here for the Pacific Coast Oto-Ophthalmological Association convention and their wives.

The entrance hall, ballroom and reception rooms were banked with fragrant masses of early summer flowers, roses, delphinium, carnations and sweet williams predominating. The guests were received in the drawing room, where the aides in attendance included Brigadier Sutherland Brown, Lieut. Col. Vincent McKenna, Col. Hugh Allan, Major M. W. Turner, Capt. W. H. Molson and Mr. Hew Paterson.

Mrs. Hamber wore for the occasion a graceful, formal gown of peach lace, with accents in mulberry shade carried out in the subtle belt encircling the waist and in the buttons which marked the front of the bodice. A little pleated collar of the lace marked the neckline and the puffed, elbow-length sleeves were outlined with lace applique.

Tea was served in the ballroom and dining-room, at flower-decorated tables, while an orchestra dispensed soft music for the further entertainment of the guests. Many of the visitors seized the opportunity of wandering through the grounds, which are at the height of their summer loveliness.

AT "CLOVELLY"

Yesterday the visiting doctors and their wives were taken for a drive as far as the Malahat Tea House, and later, together with the group of Victorians who drove the visitors, were entertained at tea yesterday afternoon by Lady Barnard at her beautiful home, "Clovelly."

Tea was served in the garden pavilion, which was arranged with a profusion of exquisite flowers, and later the visitors enjoyed walking about in the garden, which is one of the loveliest in Victoria. Last evening they attended an informal flannel dance at the Empress Hotel.

Garden Party Enriches St. Luke's

Dean Opened Fete At Mr. and Mrs. Jutson-Fisher's

With ideal weather to add the final touch of perfection to the arrangements and a setting which offered a riot of color in the flower beds and a magnificent panorama of sea and mountain, the garden fete at the charming home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Jutson-Fisher yesterday afternoon at Tudor Avenue drew a large cavalcade of visitors out to Ten-Mile Point. Sponsored by St. Luke's Church, Cedar Hill, the fete netted the handsome sum of $150 for the church funds.

Very Rev. Spencer Elliott, Dean of Columbia, performed the opening ceremony in the presence of a large gathering of parishioners and friends of St. Luke's.

The guests were welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Fisher, Rev. S. Ryall and Mrs. Ryall, and by Col. H. T. Goodland, general convener of the committee in charge of arrangements, and Mrs. Goodland. Assisting Col. Goodland on the committee were Col. G. A. Phillips, G. A. Walton, Mr. Edmonds and Mr. Riley.

Members of the W.A., under the convenship of the president, Mrs. G. W. Lytton, assisted by Mrs. L. C. Lytton, the past president, and members of the auxiliary, had charge of the tea, which was served on the veranda and on the lawn in front of the house.

Mrs. T. Libby was convener of the home-cooking stall; Mrs. Bell and Mrs. Dunkley sold the ice cream and strawberries and cream; Mrs. Edmonds was in charge of the candy stall; Mr. Riley sold the vegetables and garden produce, and Miss Ruth Sherman and Miss Monica Mann had charge of the hidden treasure hunt.

Peter Mitchell was in charge of the coconut shy, and Mrs. F. G. Aldous looked after the clock golf. In the various contests Miss Agnew was the winner of a writing case, and Mr. Edmonds and Mrs. Bell each won a ham.

HOW TO MAKE ICED TEA

Infuse six heaping teaspoons of Salada Black Tea in a pint of fresh, boiling water. After six minutes strain liquid into two-quart container. While hot, add 1 to 1½ cups of granulated sugar and juice of 2 lemons, strained. Stir well until sugar is dissolved, fill container with cold water. Do not allow tea to cool before adding the cold water, otherwise liquid will become cloudy. Serve with chopped ice.

They will do some shopping this afternoon, and tonight will be the guests of the Victoria East Rangers at a beach fire sing-song and wiener roast at Rattenbury Beach, Oak Bay.

The Haymakers provided gay music for new and old-time dancers. During the evening a prize was given to Miss Doris Fox for the prettiest dress, a spot prize was won by Mrs. Frew and a cushion worked and donated by Mrs. R. Bell, was won by Mrs. Colton. Tea and ice cream were served both in the house and in the garden, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Will Pemberton and Mrs. J. Moyle, Chemainus. During the afternoon the guests availed themselves of the opportunity of wandering through the beautiful gardens, which are a riot of color, the fine old trees offering welcome shade from the heat of the day.

WHY FALSE TEETH WEARERS HAVE BAD BREATH

Millions Suffer Without Knowing!

You can't notice any odor from your plate or bridge—but others can! Dentists call this odor "denture breath" and it's serious. It comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum is almost invisible—but it can make your breath so bad that friends shudder. It can breed decay-bacteria that infect your other teeth, actually, hurt your health and spoil your pleasure.

Ordinary brushing can't get this scum off plate or bridge—can't protect you against "denture breath." But just try Polident! Polident not only cleans—it actually purifies plates and bridges without brushing. It gets every bit of scum, tarnish, stain and odor

Workers of David Spencer Enjoy Picnic at Woodside Farm

On the southerly tip of Vancouver Island, amid the delightful setting of Gilz's Woodside Farm, employees of David Spencer Limited, yesterday afternoon enjoyed their sixth annual picnic.

About 125 members of the staff with their wives and friends participated in a program of novelty events which provided great amusement for the spectators.

An energetic committee in charge of the day's arrangements ran off the various events in excellent style. The program was concluded with a dance in the evening, held in the new Sooke Community Hall, with Bunk McEwen's orchestra supplying the music. Prizes won during the day were presented at the dance.

One of the most amusing contests of the afternoon was the bun-eating competition for the ladies, in which the contestants were required to eat a well-buttered bun suspended by string from a bar. Spectators were kept in peals of laughter as the fair competitors completed the contest with butter-smears on faces and mouths stuffed with the remaining morsels of their buns.

A similar bit of entertainment was provided by the men's banana-eating contest, something new in the way of picnic entertainment, in which blindfolded pairs fed each other bananas.

The other novelties included a boot and shoe race, three-legged race, wheelbarrow race and centipede race.

During the afternoon J. W. Spencer arrived with F. E. Winslow to see the remainder of the program and join in the picnic supper.

A cold chicken supper was served on the lawns surrounding the farmhouse, and was followed by a softball game between the regular store team and a scrub team, and a dance later in the evening.

The outing was arranged by the firm's athletic and social club under the presidency of Vic Simmons, who was chairman of the committee in charge of the day. Other members of the committee were Bert Lashmar, Jim O'Connor, Miss Kay Elston, Miss Sadie Underwood, Mrs. C. Turner, Miss B. Colbert, E. H. Street and F. A. Tadman. James O'Connor acted as master of ceremonies.

Winners of the day's events were:

Ladies' races—Bun-eating contest, B. Simmons, M. Dewhurst; sack race, B. Simmons, M. Dewhurst.

Men's races—Banana-eating contest, J. Zwinger and S. Curtis.

Ted Fox and R. Brown; sack race, Ted Fox and A. Rossiter; centipede race, Max Winkler and team.

Mixed events—Boot and shoe race, E. Simmons and Max Winkler; M. O'Connor and A. Rossiter; wheelbarrow race, A. Taylor and M. Dewhurst, E. Cook and J. Byatt.

Oto-Ophthalmological Society Will Meet in San Francisco Next Year

Dr. Frederick C. Cordes is the new president of the Pacific Coast Oto-Ophthalmological Society, succeeding Dr. William D. Donohue of Los Angeles.

Other officers elected at yesterday afternoon's business session were Dr. E. S. Murphy of Missoula, Mont., and Dr. W. Cameron of Tacoma, Wash., first and second vice-presidents respectively, and Dr. Allen Dickey of San Francisco re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Dr. George McClure of Oakland, Calif., was appointed to the program committee; Dr. Frank Baxter of Oakland to the committee of instruction in otology and ophthalmology; and Dr. L. Weston Oaks of Provo, Utah, to the committee of instruction in ophthalmology.

The 27th annual meeting of the society will be held in San Francisco in May, 1939.

Scenes at the sixth annual picnic of employees of David Spencer Ltd. are shown above. Some of the employees and their friends who took part in a varied program of events are shown in the upper photograph with J. W. Spencer, head of the firm, and F. E. Winslow, seated in the front row. In the lower picture the ladies are shown waiting for the starter's gun in the bun-eating contest. The buttered buns, suspended on string, are shown between them.

SAANICH LOAN IS APPROVED

Ward Seven Ratepayers Endorse Move For Waterworks Borrowings

Action of the Saanich Council in making application for a $40,000 loan for waterworks extensions and renewals and in appropriating funds for the drilling of test holes to investigate a municipal water supply were endorsed by Ward Seven ratepayers at a meeting in Tillicum School last night.

The meeting also approved a motion in favor of spending $8,000 for a new Gorge Road water main instead of $2,000 allocated by the council for a portion of the work.

Councillors Leslie H. Passmore, Ward Seven, and E. C. Warren, Ward Two, addressed the meeting and dealt with the decision of the council to apply for a loan under the federal government's borrowing plan to accomplish the waterworks repairs.

Councillor Passmore pointed to the need for complete replacement of the Gorge Road main rather than patching it up. The job would have to be done in four or five years anyhow, and he thought it should be undertaken now rather than just have a portion repaired.

ment of the Gorge Road main rather than patching it up. The job would have to be done in four or five years anyhow, and he thought it should be undertaken now rather than just have a portion repaired.

As chairman of the water committee, Councillor Warren criticized wards who opposed the drilling of test holes to determine whether a municipal waterworks system was feasible. The work to be done with the borrowed money was badly needed and would only be a small start on the actual requirements, he said.

FOR YOUR

VACATION

Lake Cowichan Has Many Attractions

High in the Hills, Healthy and Invigorating

A good vacation often means a change of climate. That is why so many people who live by the sea prefer a holiday high in the hills beside a lake, or river where the air is crisp and invigorating. Vancouver Island offers a number of such mountain resorts, among them Cowichan Lake, situated far back in the range of hills behind the little city of Duncan.

To those who have visited it, Cowichan Lake needs no introduction. Following the road in from Duncan (which, by the way, has been improved considerably since last year) the motorist first finds the Cowichan River, twisting and winding and tumbling over the rocks in its first great surge toward the sea. Nearer the lake, the river is wider, a calm, steady stream that reflects the sunsets and the shadows of the hills in a myriad different colors. Here tiny houses and pretty gardens border the shore. The lake itself is divided into an upper and lower basin, connected by a deep channel of water known as The Narrows. All around its shoreline there are trails that take the vacationist high into the hills or along the course of some stream. Among the better-known are the Rangers' Trail to the Lookout on Bald Mountain, the road back into Little Natchez, and at the far end of the lake the trail into the famous Nitinat country, an arduous hike that tempts the seasoned climber. For those who prefer a less strenuous existence, there is boating and tennis and best of all, swimming in fresh water that is warm, yet at the same time invigorating.

With all these other attractions, it must not be forgotten that Cowichan Lake is best known as a fishermen's paradise. Fly fishing in the river and trolling on the lake seldom go unrewarded. Fishermen come from many miles distant to cast a fly at Cowichan.

RIVERSIDE INN

In the little townsite, nestled close at the source of the river, there is a small hotel, known and liked by many vacationists and fishermen. It is called Riverside Inn. Rebuilt completely just a couple of years ago, the Riverside is now a modern and up-to-date hotel. It has a lovely large living-room with big windows looking out over the river to the western hills and a cool dining-room where delicious home-cooked meals are served at almost any time of day. The bedrooms are cool and clean, all with windows that offer a beautiful view. The beds, soft and comfortable, assure the outdoor vacationist, or fisherman a good night's rest. The cream stucco exterior of the inn is finished in dark-stained wood, with many gables. The Riverside is situated right on the river, in fact its rolling green lawns reach the water's edge. There are boats always at the hotel landing and a tennis court for those who wish to play. Mr. and Mrs. S. Hardy, the present owners, make every effort to have their guests feel at home and to see that they enjoy themselves.

CEDAR CABIN CAMP

A little over three miles beyond the inn on the river road nearer the lake there is Cedar Cabin Camp, one of the most picturesque and at the same time most modern summer camps on the island. It has a lovely situation in a big grove of trees right at the water's edge. The pretty cottages, all built of cedar shakes, stained a rich dark brown, are placed under the trees in their own little plots of ground. They are not close together. All have a wonderful degree of privacy while still maintaining the happy carefree atmosphere of friendly camp life. The cottages and cabins are clean, with the healthy pine fragrance of cedar all about them. They are all well furnished and each and every one of them has a wide verandah where it is possible to sleep, eat or laze at will. There are boats right at the camp and Fred Swanson, the owner, claims some of the very largest fish are caught just off his property.

A good vacation then, with a complete change of climate and atmosphere, should include the name of Cowichan Lake and River as a favored possibility.

Wall Beach Has a New Auto Camp

Vancouver Island offers the holiday seeker many surprises. Each year some new beauty spot is made easier to find and to enjoy and explore. This season Wall Beach, just beyond Nanos Bay, is coming into its own and should before the summer months are over be very much better known. The road to Wall Beach branches away from the highway near Craig's Crossing. It winds and twists its way through a cool green tunnel formed by almost overhanging trees and a wonderland of shrubs and ferns until it ends in a wide green field right on the shore. The bay is almost landlocked, with a safe beach for children and warm bathing for older brothers and sisters. Just beyond the bay is some of the finest fishing to be found around that part of the island.

Under the spreading branches of the cedar trees that line the shore and fill the air with their redolent perfume, D. Scott has built a number of fine two and three-room cottages that should be much in demand this summer. They are all comfortable and clean and arranged in such a way that work is made easy. A summer camping spot that should give a restful holiday to tired mothers as well as active young folks. There are boats for those who wish them.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott have only recently come to Vancouver Island from the prairies, where Mr. Scott was in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway until he retired. Both he and Mrs. Scott are very interested in Wall Beach and hope through their efforts to make it one of Vancouver Island's most popular summer resorts.

She said that the women had been one happy united family in the church and she looked forward to the day that she returned to Victoria and her many friends.

"When I go," she said, "I will carry away the happiest mem-

The farewell service was opened by Rev. John Bell who also pronounced the benediction.

The hymns sung were, "Faith of Our Fathers," "Ye Gates Lift Up Your Heads," and "The Church's One Foundation."

The gathering then went to the church gymnasium where refreshments were served and the choir sang several selections.

Hockey Groups to Seek Settlement

N.H.L. Governors Want to Close Breach With Canadian Amateur Rulers

NEW YORK (CP) — After watching the Joe Louis-Max Schmeling fight en masse, heads of the National Hockey League today were willing to try and patch up one of their own, a breach with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association.

President Frank Calder announced after today's meeting of the N.H.L. board of governors that Conny Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs, Art Ross of Boston Bruins and himself had been appointed to deal with the situation.

"The C.A.H.A. have expressed a desire to co-operate with us and we are quite willing to play our part," said Calder, who caused a stir last fall when he announced here that relations between the two associations had been broken.

The breach which smashed a friendly relationship of long standing followed charges by both organizations of failure to honor agreements, particularly regarding suspensions. When Calder announced last fall the N.H.L. would deal with amateurs as it saw fit, C.A.H.A. officials protested to no avail.

MAROONS MUST OPERATE

Possible peace between the two groups attracted some attention from the plight of Montreal Maroons, who were reported to have been refused permission to suspend operations for one season. Owners of the other clubs considered the Maroons obligated to go through with the schedule unless a change is made on the franchise.

Lester Patrick, chief sponsor of the chain system in hockey, announced he had asked for waivers on five players to pave the way for new and promising material for his next edition of the New York Rangers.

The silver fox said he had placed Joe Cooper, defenceman, and Bobby Kirk and Butch Keeling, forwards with the 1937-1938 Ranger squad, on the waiver list. Kirby McDonald and Larry Molnyaux, Philadelphia Ramblers, stars on Rangers' reserve list, are also available to any club willing to part with the stipulated $5,000.

Red Dutton of New York Americans, announced the signing of four new players, three of them amateurs.

To bolster his defence, Dutton has added Willie Fields of the Seattle Sea Hawks in the Pacific Coast League, and Pat Egan, who played in Northern Ontario's nickel belt circuit last winter, Joe Benoit and Bunny Dame, forwards with Trail Smoke Eaters, Allan Cup champions, will receive tryouts. He said the team would train in either Edmonton or Regina.

Ernie Savard, suave manager of Montreal Canadiens, said he would not offer contracts to the veterans Aurel Joliat and Pili Lepine. He said the players did not want their release but the club was endeavoring to find other hockey jobs for them.

COLWOOD WINS OVER LIBERALS

Strengthens Hold on B Section Softball Leadership By 5 to 3 Victory

Bruce Lowe's Colwood softballers strengthened their leadership position in the B section race yesterday evening when they turned back Young Liberals, 5 to 3, after a keenly-fought fixture.

Billsborough stayed on the hill for the woodmen all evening and allowed only one run for eight innings. In the ninth, however, the Liberals bagged two more runs but were still trailing by a pair. The Colwood boys scored two runs in the first, a like number in the third and one in the seventh.

Commercial League games played yesterday evening resulted in Syracuse defeating the leading Harris Cyclists, 10 to 8; Masters Motors defeating Lake Hill, 13 to 8, and B. Wilsons winning from Vampires by default.

In the women's section of the Lower Island Softball Association, Hunt's Garage took the measure of Esquimalt, 21 to 10.

MISS HODGSON OUT OF GOLF

PORTLAND — Betty Jameson, San Antonio, Texas, medalist in the Pacific Northwest Golf Association women's tournament, breezed along to the quarter-final round yesterday with a methodical 5 and 4 victory over Elizabeth Tanner, Seattle.

Upsets marked other matches, however, when Mrs. M. M. Wagner, La Grande, defeated Mrs. B. E. Eva, Oregon State women's champion, 2 and 1, and Patsy McKenna, Portland, beat Mrs. Martin Hunter, Portland, 10 and 8, the largest score of the tournament.

Other matches saw Marion McDougall, Portland, defending champion, defeat Miss Peggy Hodgson, Victoria, 5 and 4.

MEN'S PLAY

PORTLAND — Jack Westland, Seattle medalist, continued a winning streak in the Pacific Northwest Golf Association tournament yesterday, scoring a par-smashing 67 in a round which saw the defending champion and two former champions dropped.

Westland defeated Ed Labea, Portland, 4 and 3. Today he met Sidney Milligan, Eugene, who beat Eddie Hogan, Portland, former champion, 2 and 1.

Harry Givan, Seattle, defending champion, defaulted his match to Malcolm Macnaughton, San Francisco, when a strained shoulder failed to yield to treatment. Joining Givan and Hogan on the sidelines was Forest Watson, Seattle, who lost to Seeley Allen, 1 up.

Three former northwest champions survived the round yesterday. They were: Dr. O. F. Wilking, Portland, Walker Cup player, who beat Fred Lyman, Seattle, 2 and 1; Rudie Wilhelm, Portland, who defeated Ben Hughes, Eugene, 1 up; and Scotty Campbell, Seattle, who played even par to down Bud Haskell, Olympia, 4 and 3.

Don Moe, Portland Walker Cup member, who has held almost every other northwest title, continued in the play by ousting Don Thompson, Portland, 2 up.

Flight results included: Second—E. Colgate, Victoria, beat Gerry Bert Jr., Seattle, 3 and 2; A. B. Christopher, Victoria, beat Bob Duden, Portland, 2 and 1.

Fourth—J. E. Bowers, Salt Lake City, Utah, beat A. Hazeldine, Vancouver, 3 and 2; Alan Taylor, Victoria, beat Sidney Noles, Portland, 7 and 6.

BARRISTERS PLAN TO AID NEEDY

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver Bar Association yesterday unanimously endorsed a proposal to provide legal aid to indigent persons.

The Vancouver lawyers are prepared to inaugurate an innovation for Canada by providing counsel in the criminal courts for the defence of accused persons in deserving cases.

Members of the bar will be canvassed to ascertain those who will volunteer their services, and in the meantime a committee which has had the matter under consideration will give it further study with a view to co-operating with welfare organizations.

JOE LOUIS' KNOCKOUT SPEEDIEST IN HISTORY

before Joe clipped him again. This time, clearly confused, he bounced up at the count of one.

Now Louis made sure of his kill. As the tottering Teuton stood there, his guard barely up, Joe measured him carefully and set a terrific right to his chin. Max fell straight forward, his face nearly striking the floor.

The sheer brutality of Louis' assault must not have been lost on Baer, who sat in a ringside chair. Though he signs today to fight the negro, it is doubtful Max believes down in his heart he can win. He took a bad hiding from Louis before, and Joe is a far better man now.

As for Schmeling, his future clearly is all behind him. He said he would like to fight Louis again, but the odds are that he never will get the chance. He is returning to Germany July 1 to receive whatever sort of reception awaits him.

SAYS JOBLESS MUST BE MOVED

Finland Claims Governments Not Facing Responsibility On Unemployed

"After their demonstrations in Vancouver, Victoria and Vancouver Island know what to expect if they receive the unemployed passively. No time should be lost in having them moved on," E. V. Finland, M.P.P. for Esquimalt, declared in an address to a meeting of Cobble Hill and Shawnigan

Lake Conservative Associations at Cobble Hill last night.

Mr. Finland asserted that at the same time every effort must be made to compel the provincial government to work with those who could solve the unemployment problem.

"If we had a government concerned with the welfare of the province or its people, or concerned even with keeping its own pre-election promises the trouble would never have been permitted to develop to its present serious proportions," Mr. Finland said.

The speaker said the unemployed had shown poor gratitude in Vancouver for the things the cities and municipalities had done for them. They offered a poor excuse for the wanton destruction they wrought after eviction from the post office.

Mr. Finland said that fundamentally the unemployment problem was up to the Dominion but the provincial government could not escape its share of responsibility.

Senators Reject Newspaper Bill

OTTAWA (CP)—A bill that would require the names and addresses of owners, publishers and stockholders of newspapers be filed with the Postmaster-General and printed in newspapers was defeated in the Senate private bills committee yesterday.

Sponsored by T. L. Church, Conservative, Toronto-Broadview, the bill is a hardy perennial, usually passed by the House and always defeated in either a Senate committee or the Upper House itself.

It was passed this session by the Commons but disposed of quickly yesterday. Senator Duncan Marshall, Liberal, Toronto, moved that "the preamble was not proven" and without any discussion the bill was declared defeated.

IMPERIAL OIL Announces NEW IMPROVEMENT IN GASOLINE QUALITY!

Protected by Canadian Patent #357976

Exclusive solvent dissolves gum and fights carbon accumulations that rob engines of power!

From Imperial Oil Limited refineries comes an improvement in gasoline quality so important that it is protected by a patent issued by the Canadian Government. Esso and 3-Star now contain an exclusive solvent which dissolves gum and fights carbon. Instead of drying and baking into hard sticky deposits that in a short time rob the engine of power, carbon and gum are dissolved and blown out through the engine exhaust.

The Canadian Government, in granting this patent, has recognized that this new solvent when added to gasoline, gives it new, useful and improved characteristics. No one can duplicate the new formula of Esso and 3-Star. No other gasoline can duplicate the performance of these improved motor fuels.

You have the word of Canada's leading petroleum organization that Esso and 3-Star are unexcelled motor fuels.

You Have Two Choices of Performance

Esso The highest quality motor fuel Imperial Oil has ever made, containing a sufficient amount of "tetraethyl" lead to eliminate "knock" and "ping" and to give smooth power and cool running. Now Esso also contains the new Imperial solvent to keep your engine free of gum and carbon.

3-STAR This famous gasoline has long been recognized by motorists as a regular priced gasoline of exceptional quality. Now it contains the exclusive gum-absorbing solvent. It means more power, a cleaner engine, than ever.

ONE YEAR FOR THEFT OF CAR

Louie West Receives Minimum Term For Stealing H. G. Smith's Auto

Louie West was sentenced to one year's imprisonment when he pleaded guilty in the City Police Court this morning to a charge of stealing a car owned by Harold G. Smith.

H. J. Davis, counsel for West, originally entered a plea of not guilty but after the prosecution's case had been presented by C. L. Harrison he said the accused was changing his plea to one of guilty.

West was arrested in the early morning of June 17 by Detective Henry Jarvis and Constable James Strong of the City Police and Constable Victor Smith of the Saanich Police.

The car was stolen from Roseberry Avenue and Constable Smith testified he had stopped the accused driving along Haultain Street in the stolen vehicle.

He said he had apprehended the accused for a Motor Vehicle Act infraction after pacing him at 50 miles an hour along Haultain Street. The officer did not know at the time that the car was stolen but when the theft was reported he recognized the accused as the driver.

Several previous convictions in the Victoria and Oak Bay police courts were read against West.

SCIENTIFIC WORK OVER

Oto-Ophthalmological Turn to Golf as Business Concluded

Scientific sessions of the Pacific Coast Oto-Ophthalmological Society were completed in the Empress ballroom at 12.30 today and the delegates then turned their attention to golf and other forms of recreation.

The annual dinner of the society will be held at 8 this evening when the traditional program will be followed and golf competition prizes awarded.

Dinner will be served to the ladies at 7.30 in a private dining-room.

The annual golf tournament is being played this afternoon over the Oak Bay course with the golfing scientists battling for the McCool trophy and the Puget Sound Academy trophy.

The latter trophy has been returned to the society by Dr. Roderic O'Connor of Oakland, Calif., who has held it for three years.

A novel feature to the game has been introduced, only the total score to the green being counted, exclusive of all putts.

While the men are playing golf the ladies will be entertained to tea at Government House.

MAY ARBITRATE SALMON PRICES

Appointment of an arbitration board to decide what price cannery shall pay fishermen for salmon caught in B.C. waters this season appeared likely today.

After the cannery's operating committee had made a formal application to Hon. George S. Pearson, Commissioner of Fisheries, to have the price question arbitrated, Mr. Pearson today wired to ten fishermen's unions, asking if they were agreeable to arbitration and would bear their share of the cost.

The Fisheries Act provides for the appointment of a board of three to determine the prices.

Negotiations between fishermen and cannery have been going on for some time without success. The fishing season officially opens next Sunday.

FIRES DESTROY SEVEN MILLS

EDMONTON (CP)—Huge forest fires raging on a wide front 250 miles northwest of Edmonton have destroyed seven sawmills and 90 per cent of a timber berth, it was reported today. The mills were located in the district between Sexsmith and Vallhalla.

Four more saw mills were reported in immediate danger from the blazes. Only heavy rains, reports said, can stop the fires.

Argument on the legality of operating curb gas pumps was heard in the City Police Court this morning in the case against the Island Pacific Oil Company of contravening the fire marshal's regulations by an improper installation of a pump. J. B. Clearhue, for the defence, contended the work was a replacement rather than a new installation, and therefore was not subject to the regulations.

The government stopped giving relief aid for unemployed at the beginning of March. Municipal leaders protested immediately but agreed to delay their requests for aid until it could be ascertained how the new arrangement worked out.

HOT SPELL ABOUT OVER

Cooler Days Expected and Possibility of Light Shower Tomorrow

The present warm spell, which has kept rain away from Victoria for 37 consecutive days, was broken last night with cooling breezes and a further break is expected tomorrow, with some cloudiness and the possibility of a light shower.

The highest temperature yesterday was 73 degrees, four degrees lower than the day before. At noon today the temperature stood at 61 and there was little likelihood of it going above 65.

The prolonged dry spell, unusual so early in the year, has caused no shortage of water in the lakes and river of the island where Greater Victoria gets its domestic supply. The pressure in many homes, however, is weakened, because of so much water being used on gardens.

The golf courses have had rather a trying time getting enough water for greens and are showing signs of scorching.

Oak Bay Municipality has made its annual request to large consumers of water in the Uplands to conserve as much as possible.

The city is not worried about its water supply, although several householders have complained in recent days that their pressure is poor. Investigation revealed the cause as due to old and corroded water pipes.

There is no shortage of water supply at Jordan River and B.C. Electric Railway officials said there never is until late in the summer.

Mayor McGavin said this morning the boulevards, which have suffered from the dry spell and have turned brown are now being watered daily and shortly should turn green once more.

Indigency Costs Are Under Study

Municipal Leaders to Ask Cabinet Aid Shortly

The question of responsibility for unemployable indigents in municipal areas will be argued by the Union of B.C. Municipalities executive and the provincial cabinet in about ten days, Hon. A. Wells Gray, Minister of Municipal Affairs, said today.

Mr. Gray said an analysis of the unemployable situation and the size of the burden thrown upon cities by the government's refusal to contribute toward their relief is now being made and will form the basis for consideration of the cities' request that the government should help to care for them.

The government stopped giving relief aid for unemployed at the beginning of March. Municipal leaders protested immediately but agreed to delay their requests for aid until it could be ascertained how the new arrangement worked out.

NEW EDITOR SEES VICTORY

China Will Win in Long Struggle With Japan, Says Ho Chia Wei

Victory for China in its battle with Japan is predicted by Ho Chia Wei who has just arrived in Victoria to take over the editorship of the New Republic, Chinese language newspaper published in the city.

"Personally," said Mr. Ho through an interpreter, "I support the views and actions of our generalissimo, Chiang Kai Shek."

"I think China will win because China can handle a long drawn-out struggle."

"China is prepared to lose 10 men for every one Japanese, and it has the population that will overwhelm the Japanese in the finish."

"All the happenings of the last 10 months have not had a really serious effect on the Chinese. Their morale is unbroken."

Mr. Ho came direct from China to take over his new post here. He succeeds Y. Y. Yow, who has gone to San Francisco to take charge of a paper there.

Company Taxes Tested In Suits

OTTAWA (CP) — Through sweltering heat that took its toll when Hon. Charles Dunning, Finance Minister, was moved to his home yesterday after collapsing in the lobby of the chamber, the budget debate continued today in the House of Commons with hope of an early vote, probably tomorrow.

If the debate ends tomorrow it will go down on the records as one of the shortest budget debates in recent years.

Features of yesterday's debate included an appeal from Dr. C. J. Veniot, Liberal, Gloucester, N.B., for reorganization of the Fisheries Department, criticism of the textile industry by J. S. Woods, C.C.F. leader, and a brief speech by A. J. Lapointe, Liberal, Matapedia-Matane, Que.

Replying to Mr. Woods' speech, Revenue Minister J. L. Halsey told the House criminal proceedings against textile companies mentioned in the report of Mr. Justice W. F. A. Turgeon of his investigation of the industry would have been "useless and fruitless."

Mr. Woods' had charged the government with neglect of duty in failing to prosecute the companies and complained that unemployed men who broke windows in Vancouver were assailed with gas and clubs while big financiers who robbed the government and the public were allowed to go unpunished.

Before prorogation of Parliament it was the responsibility and duty of the government, Mr. Woods' declared, to say what action would be taken against textile company tax evaders who were making enormous profits while paying "pitifully small wages" to their workers.

EIGHT SUITS

Civil action for the recovery of income and profits taxes had been taken against eight companies, said Mr. Halsey. Mr. Woods' said he was not correct in his facts when he said no action had been taken. Evidence at the textile inquiry had indicated a probable shortage in tax payments by certain companies. The National Revenue Department had investigated and decided civil action was warranted.

The alleged short payments arose in connection with alleged undervaluation of inventories, and the companies claimed they had paid all taxes due and had a right to value their inventories as they chose. The department claimed inventories should be valued at cost or market price, whichever was the lower.

While there was a dispute over this point, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to obtain a conviction in the criminal courts. The proper procedure was to sue in the civil courts.

TAYLOR HAS PLAN

A contribution to the debate was made by J. S. Taylor, Independent, Nanaimo, who suggested, as a means of relieving the Dominion from "financial constipation," that wealthy citizens voluntarily surrender to the government for 10 years securities amounting at $200,000,000 to be used as a basis for issuing new money to that extent.

In addition the government could issue $400,000,000 on its gold reserves, thus creating a $600,000,000 fund to be used to stimulate industrial life. It might be considered a form of managed inflation.

The securities would be returned at the end of 10 years and the interest would be paid in the meantime.

Mr. Taylor found a precedent for his financial plan in an oper-

How California Greeted Shriners

Up in the air goes turbaned Ed West, above, catapulted from the arms of California cuties. But this Noble of the Mystic Shrine is no more up in the air than the city of Los Angeles, turned topsyturvy as the Shriners, in 64th Imperial Council session, descended on the city with colorful parades and pageants, seasoned with the customary sideline pranks. Wearers of the red fez were everywhere on the southern California landscape, sampling Hollywood night life between their official sessions.

ation performed by the British government during the war. Then it was desired to establish a large credit in the United States and patriotic, wealthy citizens loaned large block of their securities to the government. Sir George Paish took them to Washington, where they were hypothecated to finance purchases of war materials and supplies in the United States. It was not until after the war when Stanley Baldwin negotiated a debt settlement with the United States that these securities were released.

If his plan were accepted Canada would have taken "the first great step to lift himself out of a sea of despondency." It would result in greater wealth for Canada as a whole and greater wealth for the owners of securities.

Notified, it was found that part of his body had been eaten away by wolves. Meanwhile, his wife, who had been left at a neighbor's with an infant son, had been consumed with anxiety as to what might have become of their provider.

It is to this kind of prospect that the Hon. George Pearson, our Minister of Labor, would drive hundreds of young fellows away from this province, who have sought work and wages, or shelter in our midst. It is probably realized that these boys do find some measure of companionship and consolation in suffering together, so the best idea our statesmen can conceive appears to be to disperse them abroad and let the wolves get at them. When these poor wretches drop down exhausted and die behind a bush, becoming food for prowling coyotes, they become most effectually "settled upon the land," and so cease any longer to be an anxiety to the powers that be. So drive them back to the prairies by all means, and wash your hands of responsibility, Mr. Pearson.

DAVID GRIEVE TUCKWELL, 1017 Burdett Avenue.

Letters to the Editor

SEEKING WORK IN SASKATCHEWAN
To the Editor:—I have just received a weekly newspaper from the prairies, of which I was at one time the owner, relating the experiences of a poor devil who had been vainly seeking for employment. After trudging around for some days, during which time he traveled many miles, the unfortunate fellow sank down exhausted, and died a lonely death. His body was subsequently discovered by schoolboys returning home, and, on the policy being

COWBOY STAR AT COLUMBIA

Bob Baker Playing in Universal's "Courage of the West"

Bob Baker, crooning cowboy star of Universal's "Courage of the West," now playing at the Columbia Theatre, started his career singing over an El Paso, Texas, radio station, became famous in Chicago as "the golden-voiced cowboy," and lonesome; returned to Prescott, Ariz., to manage a cattle ranch when Universal talent scouts found him. He is a champion rodeo rider, and a crack shot with any type of gun in addition to being a handsome "six-footer."

Universal hopes he does not get lonesome again. He has a swell career in the movies.

Irene Harvey is also appearing in "The General Said No."

OAK BAY SHOW IS HELD OVER

Four stellar comedians are seen in support of Deanna Durbin, singing star, in her new Universal film, "Mad About Music," now at the Oak Bay Theatre. The quartette is Arthur Treacher, Christian Rub, Charles Judels and Bert Roach.

Capitol Screens "Three Comrades"

It was abrupt and unreal when the Armistice brought quiet on the western front. Now, years later, when the dogs of war are again baying over Europe, comes a motion picture based on the impressive novel by Erich Maria Remarque, "Three Comrades." The story, as the world remembers, related the adventures of three heroic war veterans who found themselves face to face with the dangers of post-war peace.

The three comrades are Robert Taylor, Franchot Tone and Robert Young. The woman in the narrative is portrayed by Margaret Sullivan.

This is the picture which Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer brings to the Capitol Theatre tomorrow for an engagement of three days.

Atlas Books "Joy of Living"

Two stars who scored unusual renown during 1937 are teamed for the first time in the novelty musical hit of 1938, "Joy of Living," coming tomorrow to the Atlas Theatre.

Irene Dunne, who reached top comedy honors in "The Awful Truth," and Douglas Fairbanks Jr., who scored as the dashing Rupert in "The Prisoner of Zenda," appear in "Joy of Living," a unique romantic comedy-drama, with a group of Jerome Kern tunes for its musical features. Alice Brady, Guy Kibbee, Jean Dixon, Eric Blore, Lucille Ball and Warren Hymer are in the prominent supporting cast of this RKO Radio picture.

Dominion Books Northern Story

Among the more exciting announcements to come out of Hollywood this year was the one from Republic Studios, announcing the production of "Call of the Yukon," based on James Oliver Curwood's story, "Swift Lightning," with exteriors filmed in Alaska, close by the Arctic Circle.

For several months a company had been working out of Juneau, Alaska, only 120 miles from the rim of the earth, photographing

Great Throng At Church Event

Thousands Attend Opening of Eucharistic Congress at Quebec

By LOUIS V. HUNTER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC—On the war-scarred plains where Canada's destiny was sealed in battle, the pilgrims to the Eucharistic Congress thronged today to worship the Prince of Peace at the first pontifical high mass in Roman Catholicism's national demonstration of faith.

The Plains of Abraham, where a nation changed hands, were peopled today with intermingling thousands of both French and English-speaking citizens.

Kneeling in an area of 100,000 seats, they ringed a tall, glistening repository and in their own name and in that of the 5,000,000 Catholics of Canada adored at the sacrifice of the altar.

ARCHBISHOPS SPEAK

At the foot of the spire-like shaft, a richly-robed figure went through the age-old ritual of the mass. Archbishop William Mark Duke of Vancouver was celebrating one of at least 50 masses in this ancient church city that opened its gates yesterday to the devout.

In every one of the churches scattered about Quebec's winding, cobblestoned streets there was a sermon. Archbishop James C. McGuigan of Toronto spoke to those who came to the plain for the outdoor manifestation of the church's supreme act of faith.

Mr. McGuigan said all the chaos of the social, economic and industrial relations of today ultimately was due to man's forgetfulness of Christ or his wilful disregard of denial of His Kingdom over him in his relations with his fellowman.

A sermon in French delivered the same message was given by Mr. Georges Gauthier, Archbishop Coadjutor of Montreal.

Missionary Tells Of Sentry's Attack

SHANGHAI (P)—J. C. Thompson of New Brunswick, N.J., on whose behalf United States Consul John M. Allison at Nanking protested to Japanese authorities Wednesday because of a blow from a sentry, arrived in Shanghai today.

Explaining the incident, he said he was stopped and searched by the sentry while riding in a jinkishsha from the Japanese embassy after securing a pass.

"In the midst of the examination I said in English, 'I have to report this to the Japanese embassy,'" Dr. Thompson said, "whereupon he instantly struck me a stinging blow with his hand across the face."

Dr. Thompson is connected with Nanking University.

BIG CRUDE PRODUCER

CALGARY (CP)—Reported as the largest crude producer in the Turner Valley field, the Vulcan-Brown well, drilled by R. A. Brown Sr. interests, was in production today.

In an eight-hour test it had a flow of 6,796.23 barrels, Mr. Brown reported.

You Can't Know All Your Friends

There are always people, whom you don't know, ready to say a good word for you. Maybe they have heard about you from someone else, or perhaps they just like your looks, or something you have said or done. The more you are in the public eye the harder it is to meet everyone of your well-wishers personally.

Your business has the same problem—how to meet and keep its friends. You can never know them all, but you can cultivate their goodwill right in their own homes through the friendly columns of their daily newspaper.

CANADIAN DAILY NEWSPAPERS

Telford Asks For Written Guarantee

VANCOUVER (CP)—Dr. Lyle Telford, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation member of the British Columbia Legislature, yesterday said he would be prepared to resign his seat any time if Premier Pattullo would give a written guarantee that there would be a by-election before the next session.

"And if Mr. Pattullo will resign too, I'll run against him in any riding he wants to and fight this issue with him," Dr. Telford said.

The C.C.F. member had previously threatened to resign as a protest to election of single unemployed men from the central post office and art gallery here early Sunday.

Herbert Gargrave, C.C.F. secretary, said the question of resignation of all C.C.F. members of the Legislature had been discussed "very briefly" by the executive and "the general feeling was against it."

Wide Juvenile Crimes Fought

EDMONTON (CP)—Police chiefs of Canada are agreed that juvenile crime is increasing more rapidly than other phases and that all possible efforts must be mobilized to reduce lawlessness among minors.

One of the chief problems being considered at the Canadian Chief Constables' Association's annual convention here, juvenile delinquency was the main subject before delegates at the session last night.

Chief F. Lesley of Prince Albert, Sask., told delegates: "It is very probable that one important factor in that increase is lack of employment—not of the boys themselves—but of their parents."

"The surplus of labor which we find now in most countries leaves thousands of boys and young men with nothing to do. Many of these boys who might have continued at school for several years longer under normal conditions have been unable to do so because of the poor circumstances in which their parents find themselves."

The convention will end tonight with a banquet tendered by the city of Edmonton.

Brodie Seeks Compensation

Lawyer Preparing Action On Ground Police Illegally Beat Jobless Leader

VANCOUVER (CP)—E. A. Lucas, Vancouver barrister, today began preparation of a petition of right on behalf of Steve Brodie, leader of 300 men evicted last Sunday from the central post office here.

Brodie, who suffered head injuries, cuts and bruises during the eviction, asks Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Dominion Justice Minister, to grant him the right to sue the crown for compensation for a beating he claims to have received from Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Brodie claims police have no right to beat persons who are unarmed and not charged with any offence, Lucas said.

Calgary Pilots In Defence Force

CALGARY (CP)—Young Calgary men equipped with pilot licenses are being recruited as flying officers for a nonpermanent active militia squadron to be organized this year. Their ages must be between 18 and 25.

While flying officers will be recruited at once, no men will be recruited until next fall. It is hoped by the end of this year the squadron will comprise nine flying officers and 50 men, and next year it is planned to bring the squadron up to full strength of 14 or 15 officers and 150 men. It is expected the squadron will be equipped with four airplanes.

STORIES OPPOSED

NEW YORK (AP)—Federal Judge Murray Hubert reserved decision today on the government's application for an order restraining the New York Post from publishing the "inside" story of the United States espionage investigation.

A temporary restraining order, issued yesterday, was continued. The articles, which were to have started today, were written by Leon G. Turrou, former special agent of the Department of Justice, who was chief investigator in the case.

Atlas Thrift Plan Corporation preferred quarterly, 7 per cent, payable July 2, on record June 25.

Wheat Slips In Selling Flurry

WINNIPEG (CP)—Gains of more than a cent in Winnipeg wheat futures were reversed into declines at the close today when a minor selling flurry found support thin. At the final bell prices were 1/2 to 1 cent lower, July at $1.07 1/2, October 85 1/2, November 85 and December 83 1/2 cents.

The trade was thin. Flurries of overseas selling drove values down 1/2 cent at the start but rallies occurred on southern support and reports Canadian export sales today totaled 200,000 bushels.

Liverpool closed unchanged at 1/4 higher. Chicago averaged slightly higher but Buenos Aires dipped 1/4 to 1/2 cent at noon.

Slow demand for red springs in the cash wheat market resulted in spreads for top grades easing as much as three cents. No. 1 and 2 northern traded at 5 and 3 cents premium of July future and No. 3 northern was quoted at 2 cents discount. Coarse grains were steady.

Stories of Common Things

IV—PINS

Even in the Stone Age, people had pins. At first the pins probably were pieces of bone taken from fish, or splinters from the bones of furry animals. Later men learned to cut them from bone and give them "heads." Hundreds of bone pins have been picked up among the remains of Swiss Lake Dwellers of the New Stone Age, and some of those pins have neatly-cut heads.

Bone needles found in a French cave.

Other early pins are believed to have been made from thorns. We are told that when the whites first came to this continent, certain Indian tribes used thorns as pins. Gypsy women of modern times have been observed to fasten their shawls with "pin-thorns."

After the art of metal working was learned, copper pins were made. One of these (found a few years ago at the eastern end of the Mediterranean Sea) has a head in the shape of a goat! This pin is known to be almost 5,000 years old.

Hundreds of bronze pins have been found in the graves of people buried in Egypt or Greece from 2,000 to 4,000 years ago. Other bronze pins have been picked up in Pompeii.

Not quite 600 years ago, a French princess was married, and a list of the objects in her wardrobe included "12,000 pins." That would be a great number for any woman living at any time in history, but it is amazing to hear that even a princess could have had so many pins six centuries ago. Pins at that time were not the cheap things they are today—they were costly. There is a record of an old tax in France to pay for pins used by the royal family.

Here is a story of how pins used to be made by hand: "One man draws out the wire. Another makes it straight. A third cuts it and a fourth makes the point. Other men make the head and put it on."

Nowadays, clever machines draw out steel, iron or brass wire, cut it, put on the heads and sharpen the points. Thousands and thousands of pins are made in an hour in a pin factory. The pins are sold cheaply enough, and we think they aren't worth much—unless we want one, and can't find it quickly.

On an April day in the year 1849, a New York man named Walter Hunt had what he thought was a brand-new idea. Acting quickly, he made a model of a safety pin, and sold patent rights for $400.

Hunt's safety pins were made and sold, and they filled a need. They were not, however, a new idea. Since Hunt's time, scientists have dug up many examples of safety pins made during the bronze age in Europe, 2,500 years ago or more. Those ancient safety pins are ever so much like those of today.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, JUNE 24, 1938. Mingled good and evil aspects are discerned in the horoscope for today, according to astrology. It is a lucky-day-for-journeys and changes.

Whatever is constructive and progressive should benefit under this rule which encourages building projects. Slum clearances in cities will be pushed energetically.

Sabotage will be disclosed in foreign ports where British vessels are anchored. The stars seem to presage secret work among hostile elements.

Demand for fruit-juices and prohibition period beverages will increase as the vogue for cocktails subsides. The stars indicate among the trends toward conservative customs a decided impetus to temperance.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of extreme changes. For many there may be excessive work and social activity.

Children born on this day will be strong-willed and determined. These subjects of Cancer are usually restless and fond of adventure.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—I am married to one of the best men on earth. He is devoted to me and does everything for my happiness, but I am thinking of committing suicide because we have no children and can never have any. My husband says he doesn't care, that I am enough for him and fill his life, but I know he loves children and he would make such a sweet father, as he is so good. Should I turn on the gas and get out of it all so that I would leave him free to marry some other woman who might have children?

DESPERATE.

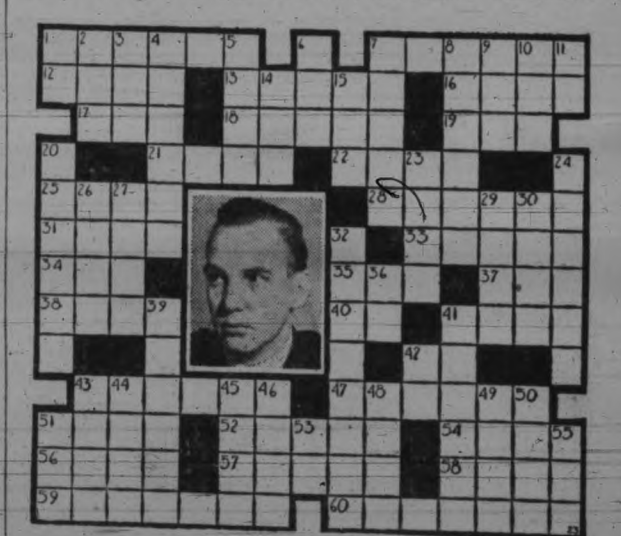

Answer: Of all the crazy letters that have ever come to this column, yours is about the most goofy. However, it has been my experience that the people who are always threatening suicide never commit it, so I will not telephone to the police to keep an eye on you.

At any rate, before you turn on the gas, try to find out if your husband's happiness really does depend on having a child in the house. Not every man is obsessed by the parental instinct. Plenty of men who are fond of children abstractly are perfectly satisfied to take their fatherhood vicariously, so to speak. They like to play with Mamie and Johnny when they are clean and all dressed up and on their best behavior and drop in for a half hour's call, but when the youngsters turn into brats instead of little angels, it is grand to be able to send them home and let somebody else listen to their noise and be up with them at night when they have the tummy ache.

And, if you are so set on a baby and can have none of your own, why not go shopping for one? At the child-finding homes you have a wide selection and can take your choice of a girl or boy with blue eyes or brown, and not have to take what nature sent you. At any rate, I should advise your taking a good dose of common sense instead of rough on rats.

Pile Sufferers

Can You Answer These Questions?

Do you know the real cause of piles? Do you know they can be doctored from the inside? Do you know you must get at and remove the cause of Piles, to get rid of them?

The real cause of Piles is poor circulation—a congestion of blood in the veins of the lower bowel. This makes the veins flabby, full of impure congested blood and weakens the rectal membranes. So if you would have relief from Piles you should use an internal medicine like HEM-ROID, a prescription written by Dr. J. S. Leonard. HEM-ROID builds up the blood, relieves the cause, stimulates circulation, eases the pressure of blood in the veins of the lower bowel and helps to heal and restore the sore, tender parts.

HEM-ROID is so successful in even the most stubborn cases that MacFarlane and Vancouver Drug Stores or any other good drug store is authorized to make good our promise to you that if you are not completely satisfied with the results from one bottle, you may have your money back.

Transportation Great Problem

Railways Will Carry 20,000 to Quebec For Eucharistic Congress

MONTREAL — The National Eucharistic Congress of Canada which will be held in Quebec City from June 22 to 26 is accompanied by transportation problems of a magnitude calling for extensive advance arrangements.

Weeks of preparation, including the gathering of attendance estimates from all over eastern Canada, has resulted in plans whereby more than 20,000 people will be carried by train to Quebec with about as little fuss as attends the ordinary Sunday school picnic.

Arrangements include the bringing of from 250 to 300 coaches to Montreal from all over eastern Canada, some from as far west as Winnipeg, operation of approximately 15 special trains as well as two or more sections on regular trains, curtailment of ordinary week-end excursions so that the equipment can be used between here and Quebec, lengthy bulletins instructing train crews and station staffs and a temporary rewriting of the Quebec Montreal timetables.

At Quebec a fence will be built near the Palais Station to make in effect an additional outdoor station. Loudspeakers have been arranged so that waiting throngs can be directed to proper trains. Adequate police protection will be provided to assist in loading, parcel-room facilities have been greatly increased and loading and operation of freight trains have been changed so as not to interfere with passenger trains.

When the ceremonies conclude early Sunday evening approximately 20,000 visitors will make for their train at the station. They will find 10 tracks loaded with coaches, the locomotives with steam up, in readiness to start for Montreal as soon as there are sufficient people aboard.

The Eucharistic Congress has caused sleepless nights for several departments of the Canadian Pacific Railway for weeks past but when the time comes there will be accommodation for all on trains running on schedules as fast and efficient as those which have been in existence between Montreal and Quebec for years.

Rail Employees Being Laid Off

Over 5,000 Men Affected By C.N.R. Ruling Effective Tomorrow

TORONTO (CP)—More than 5,000 Canadian National Railway shop employees will be affected by a "general cessation" of shop work throughout the system for 10 days, Vice-President W. A. Kingsland of the C.N.R. central region announced today.

In the central region, including Ontario and Quebec, 4,500 employees will start a 10-day holiday tomorrow. About 550 men are similarly affected in Manitoba. After the lay-off, a general reduction of 25 per cent will be made in all classes of shop work.

Mr. Kingsland's statement follows: Due to general business conditions, with the resultant falling off in traffic, it has been necessary to announce a general cessation of shop work throughout the Canadian National system for a 10-day period, commencing June 24 and terminating July 2.

In the central region 4,500 shop employees will be affected at the following points: St. Malo and Montreal, in Quebec, and Stratford, Leaside and London, in Ontario.

Upon the resumption of work, however, there will be a general reduction of 25 per cent in all classes of shop work. These reductions will affect the shops as follows: St. Malo, 105; Montreal, 562; Stratford, 209; Leaside, 73; London, 175.

I wish to emphasize the fact that this general reduction, affecting 1,124 men, is purely temporary and was made by the management with reluctance, but it is entirely due to conditions over which we have no control. As soon as increased traffic warrants it the men will immediately be returned to work.

Givenchy Not In Danger Ashore

Malaspina Standing By Stranded Fisheries Boat In Kwatna Inlet

Dominion fisheries patrol steamer Givenchy, which went ashore late yesterday in Kwatna Inlet, Burke Channel, Fitzhugh Sound, is not in danger, according to advice received here today.

The crew of the Givenchy, it is stated, was taken ashore as a precautionary measure, and the fisheries steamer Malaspina is standing by.

No request had been received in Victoria today for the services of the Pacific Salvage Company's Ss. Salvage King, which fact indicates that the Givenchy is not in danger. The Malaspina will probably attempt to float the wrecked vessel when the tide is favorable, officials of the fisheries department stated.

The 357-ton Givenchy went aground in the north while on fisheries patrol duty in company with the Malaspina.

Both steamers make their headquarters when in port at Esquimalt.

Givenchy was built in Montreal in 1919 and was brought out here from the western coast with the sister ships Thiepval and Armentieres, all of the steam-trawler type.

Name Head Of Catholic League

Mrs. T. H. Hay Of Regina, Made President Of National Body

QUEBEC (CP)—Mrs. T. H. Hay of Regina was elected president of the Catholic Women's League of Canada at the closing meeting of the 18th annual convention here yesterday. Last year Mrs. Hay was the league's first president.

Other officers were: Mrs. J. A. McCabe, Ottawa, first vice-president; Mrs. P. J. McGarry, Kitchener, Ont., second vice-president; Miss Ann MacMaster, Vancouver, third vice-president; Mrs. G. S. Marceau, Quebec, fourth vice-president; Mrs. M. J. Coughlin, Fort William, Ont., fifth vice-president; Miss Kathleen O'Meara, Ottawa, honorary secretary; and Miss A. Veronika Osborne, Saint John, N.B., honorary treasurer.

The convention made an "additional and vehement protest to the Minister of Justice beseeching that instead of making divorce laws any less stringent, divorce with liberty to remarry be made even more difficult."

A resolution adopted by the convention declared judges of the divorce courts "decry the methods of obtaining testimony in many sections, questioning the sincerity of the evidence and also the wisdom of granting divorces after comparatively short separation of the parties concerned."

On behalf of its members in New Brunswick, the league petitioned the Minister of Justice for maintenance in the Criminal Code of laws providing punishment for adultery.

The scholarship board announced that Miss Eileen Miller of Fisk, Sask., won the league's annual $1,000 scholarship for social service study.

By means of radiotelephone circuits, the captains of tugboats and other coastal craft can place long-distance telephone calls to any telephone in the Canadian and American telephone networks. In this way they can keep regularly in touch with their shore offices while at sea, in order to make reports and receive instructions.
